two MIAC teams have managed to score 70 or more points per game and connected on 46.5 percent of their attempts on Wednesday, meaning he is 23-for-36 (63.9 percent) from the field. The performance broke his own school record for three-point percentage in a game, a mark he shares with Scott Krohn, as both players had gone 7-for-9 (77.8%) in game. [The minimum number of attempts to qualify for the record is five.] He scored a season-high 18 points in the victory, including a clutch basket with 39 seconds left which proved to be the game winner.

Despite missing all five of his three-point attempts in Monday's loss at Macalester, Baquero can all three of his long-range attempts on Wednesday, meaning he is 23-for-36 (63.9 percent) from the arc in his last nine contests. He currently ranks second in the MIAC in three-point percentage and eight in three-pointers made per game (2.00/g).

Defense tops in conference, third in nation

Carleton continues to lead the MIAC in scoring defense, allowing a meager 55.0 points per game. That statistic continues to rank the Knights third nationally, through games of Jan. 31, 2004. The Knights have held the opposition to less than 40 percent shooting from the floor. The Knights are 5-2 in road MIAC games this season. Carleton shot a combined 75 free throws against St. Mary's in the two games this year, converting on 56 of them. Carleton scored 72 points from the field in two games against SMU.

Assistant Larson to miss rest of season

Long-time assistant coach Dan Larson will miss the remainder of the 2003-04 season after undergoing successful quadruple bypass surgery last week. Larson returned to his Northfield home last Sunday and is doing well. Larson, a member of Carleton’s staff for the last 21 years, is also an elementary school teacher at Northfield’s Sibley Elementary. His impact on the program has been more than evident, as 18 of Carleton’s 23 All-MIAC players over the past 20 seasons have worked under his tutelage. In addition, 12 team

Carleton hits road to face third-place Cobbers

Carleton College, who is but two games away from clinching its third consecutive MIAC Playoff bid, makes its longest road trip of the season by travelling to Concordia College, Moorhead, on Saturday.

The Knights have won three of their last four contests since losing back-to-back games against Bethel College and Gustavus Adolphus College. The Cobbers, meanwhile, are 9-3 since starting the MIAC slate 2-2 and sit in third place in the MIAC race, one-half game ahead of the Knights.

Broadcast Information

Saturday’s game can be heard live on KYMN 1080 AM in Northfield and the surrounding areas. Carleton SID Eric Sieger will be on the call with Carleton student Rob Buchanan. The game can also be heard live worldwide on Knights Online at www.carleton.edu/athletics/broadcasts.

Baquero’s magical touch carries Knights past Oles

Anthony Baquero set a new school record for three-point shooting percentage in a game, going 5-for-5 from beyond the arc in last Saturday’s 59-57 win over St. Olaf College. The performance broke his own school record for three-point percentage in a game, a mark he shares with Scott Krohn, as both players had gone 7-for-9 (77.8%) in game. [The minimum number of attempts to qualify for the record is five.] He scored a season-high 18 points in the victory, including a clutch basket with 39 seconds left which proved to be the game winner.

Despite missing all five of his three-point attempts in Monday’s loss at Macalester, Baquero can all three of his long-range attempts on Wednesday, meaning he is 23-for-36 (63.9 percent) from the arc in his last nine contests. He currently ranks second in the MIAC in three-point percentage and eight in three-pointers made per game (2.00/g).

Schiek moves into all-time top 10 in scoring

Tanner Schiek’s 18 points on Monday against Macalester moved him into Carleton’s all-time top 10 in scoring. He passed former teammate Scott Christensen and Dave Current ’63 with Monday’s total. His 15 points on Wednesday pushed him past Jim Toft ’82 for eighth.

Team Notes

- Anthony Baquero is averaging 12 points per game over his last eight games.
- Gunnar Stapp recorded a season-best five points against SMU.
- Tanner Schiek is averaging 16.6 points a game since scoring eight in a loss to Gustavus on Jan. 19.
- Dan Forkrud has scored in double figures in 10 of the last 11 games.
- He’s averaging nearly 14 points per game over the last five games.

Team Notes

- Carleton has won all nine times it has held the opposition to less than 40 percent shooting from the floor.
- The Knights are 5-2 in road MIAC games this season.
- Carleton shot a combined 75 free throws against St. Mary’s in the two games this year, converting on 56 of them. Carleton scored 72 points from the field in two games against SMU.
- The Knights have finished with 10 or more MIAC wins 13 times in its 19 seasons as a MIAC member and have posted a winning league mark in each of the previous 12 seasons. One more conference victory would assure Carleton of its 12th winning conference record.

runs the show, averaging 9.1 points, 4.1 assists and 1.5 steals per game while going 59-for-63 (93.7%) from the free-throw line. Nelson and Downey are also long-range threats. Senior guard Joe Bueckers give the Cobbers a scoring punch at 10.8 points per game while shooting better than 50 percent from the floor as the men’s coach and a 309-209 record overall. He served as Concordia’s women’s basketball coach from 1984-91, guiding the Cobbers to four MIAC titles, seven NCAA tournament appearances and the 1988 national title. He was NCAA Division III National Coach of the Year in 1988.

Individuals, the Cobbers are fairly balanced although a trio of players will do the bulk of the scoring. Junior forward Soren Nelson and senior guard Josh Downey average an identical 13.7 points per game and Nelson pacing the club in rebounding at 5.4 boards per game. Sophomore guard Keith Eckhoff comes off the bench to give the Cobbers a scoring punch at 10.8 points per game while shooting better than 50 percent from the floor as the men’s coach and a 309-209 record overall. Concordia Series
Carleton leads the all-time series with Concordia-Moorhead, 34-24, but has won only 11 times in 28 games at Memorial Auditorium and three times in their last 11 trips to the northern-most school in the conference. Seven of the last nine meetings have been decided by six points or less, with four one-point decisions and two games decided by only two points. The last four games at Memorial Auditorium have been decided by a cumulative total of six points, with the Cobbers taking three of those games.

About Concordia
The Cobbers are the surprise team of the conference this season, as a win today would give them the inside track on the third seed in the upcoming MIAC Playoffs. The Cobbers have already clinched a MIAC Playoff spot. Concordia has found success with a fairly simple concept – shoot the ball well. The Cobbers rank first in the conference in field-goal shooting (49.7%), second in free-throw shooting (76.1%) and third in three-point shooting (40.7%). Concordia really works to use their superior free-throw shooting to its advantage, as it’s nearly made more free throws (322) than its opposition has attempted (325). The Cobbers aren’t a great defensive team, ranking ninth in scoring defense (68.9 ppg allowed) and last in field-goal percentage defense (48.0%). Concordia’s defense is characterized by a strong backcourt, with senior guards Joe Bueckers and Josh Downey leading the way with 10.8 points per game. The team’s defense is bolstered by a strong rebounding effort, with senior forward Soren Nelson averaging 5.4 rebounds per game.

GUY KALLAND

Guy Kalland enters his 20th year at the helm of the Carleton men’s basketball program as one of the most successful coaches in the MIAC. A 1974 graduate of Concordia College, Moorhead, Kalland has led his team to the MIAC playoffs 10 times in the past 14 seasons and 11 times overall. The 2002-03 season marked another milestone in his storied career, as he passed his predecessor, Jack Thurnblad, as Carleton’s all-time winningest coach. Kalland also coached for three years at Eagle Bend (Minn.) High School and Cannon Falls (Minn.) High School. He runs numerous successful basketball camps during the summer, and is a professor of physical education, athletics and recreation at Carleton. Kalland and his wife, Linda, have a daughter, Abby, a senior on Carleton’s women’s basketball and softball teams.

Kalland is 257-237 in his 20th season at Carleton and overall. He is one of only three MIAC coaches with 250 or more wins at his respective school.
